

UPDATE: Buffalo Wild Wings Raises Chicken Prices As Costs Soar

--Raises price for Tuesdays' wing promotion, likely make other increases in July

--Restaurant's bone-in wing prices at $1.92 per pound in current quarter, up from $1.02 year ago

--First four weeks of 2Q show same-store sales up 6.7% at company-owned locations

(Updates with information about commodity inflation, resulting menu price changes and CEO comments.)

NEW YORK (Dow Jones)--Buffalo Wild Wings Inc. (BWLD), whose first-quarter profit rose 23%, says it plans to raise prices on its chicken wings to combat stubbornly high costs it faces for the signature menu item.
